DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 9-10, 12-14, 16 and 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Miller (U.S. patent 6,726,618).

Regarding claims 9 and 16, as broadly claimed, Miller teaches a behind-the-ear unit (200), a headpiece (204, 206, figure 2), and an assistive listening device cap (100, 102, 104, 118) configured to attach to the headpiece (204, 206) by the magnets (102, 206).

The assistive listening cap (100, 102, 104, 118) includes data communication electronics (104, 118), and the assistive listening cap (100, 102, 104, 118) is configured to mechanically attach to the exterior surface of the headpiece (204, 206) through the magnets, and the data communication electronics are configured to communicate with corresponding communication electronics within the headpiece (col. 6, lines 60-67 through col. 7, lines 1-10).

Regarding claim 10, Miller teaches the behind-the-ear unit including a cochlear implant speech processor (SSP in the housing 200).

Art Unit: 2615

Regarding claim 12, Miller teaches the data communication electronics that are configured to communicate with corresponding communication electronics of the behind-the-ear unit (200) or the headpiece (204) as claimed (col. 6, lines 53-67 through col. 7, lines 1-10).

Regarding claim 13, Miller teaches the data communication electronics that are configured to communicate with corresponding communications electronics implanted within the head of a patient with impaired hearing as claimed (figure 4, col. 6, lines 60-67 through col. 7, lines 1-21).

Regarding claims 14 and 21, Miller teaches the data communication electronics that are configured to communicate with the communication electronics of the headpiece (204, 206) through wireless signals as claimed (col. 7, lines 6-10).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

4. Claim 15 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Miller (U.S. patent 6,726,618).

Miller does not specifically teach a power source for the data communication electronics in the assistive listening device cap (100). However, providing a power source for an implanted hearing device is known in the art.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to provide a power source in the assistive listening device cap (100) or in the implanted electromagnetic acoustic transducer (300) of the Miller device for providing a better power source to the data communication electronics.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. The indicated allowability of claims 11-15 is withdrawn in view of the new ground rejection of Miller.
